Director, Joint Staff
Joint Chiefs of Staff
Washington, D. C.

Dear Dave:

It strikes me that it might be mutually profitable for both of us if we could arrange a get-together at your convenience. This is generated entirely by my thought that you might find it interesting to spend a few hours with us here at the Agency, for lunch with me and some of our top officers, followed or preceded by a briefing session on our organization, assets, capabilities and (most important) our limitations.

The arrangements for this can be made easily. Why don't you have a look at your calendar and let me know when you can steal away from the Pentagon for three or four hours, say from 1230 to 1600 hours or 1000 to 1330 hours.

Faithfully yours,

/s/ Pat
